CSCSPA Gives Cal Rebels Full Support

By SCOTT MOORE

U.C.'s Free Speech Movement (FSM) received a vigorous endorsement over the weekend from the state colleges' 16 ASB presidents.

At the same time, they mildly rapped the demonstrations and insisted state college students already have the rights FSM is fighting for at U.C.

The resolution was unanimously approved by the 16 members of CSCSPA (California State College Student President's Association), meeting at California State College at Long Beach.

Joe Persiko, ASB president of San Francisco State College, introduced the strongly-worded statement.

Appointments For Interviews Resume Jan. 7

Appointments for senior interviews will not be held until Thursday, Jan. 7, but the scheduled interviews will continue this week. The appointments are usually made in the Registrar's Office on Thursday for interviews the following week.

Interviews are for students being graduated in June or during the summer. A student being graduated in January who has not made an appointment for an interview may still do so even though the deadline has past, according to Mrs. Sylvia Gappa, supervisor of the graduate division. He will, however, receive a late diploma.

Purpose of the interview is to make certain the student has completed the necessary courses for his major and minor, has the required grade point average, has completed all general education requirements and has the necessary number of upper division units.

Before appointments are made, a major-minor form should be on file in the Registrar's Office. The major-minor form must be approved by the head of the department in the student's major field.

At the time of making the appointment, students fill out an appointment card and pay a $3 diploma fee. A credential fee of $8 per credential also will be paid at this time.

Those being graduated also are requested to fill out an alumni card.

Expanded Program In Engineering

SJS Engineering Division will expand next summer's program of continuing education for engineers in industry and government.

Among the four courses to be offered will be: solid state electronics, from June 14 to July 9; two week courses in modern materials science and hydraulic design; and a review of engineering mathematics.

More information may be acquired from Norman O. Gunderson, dean of engineering, San Jose State College, San Jose 14, Calif., or by coming to the Engineering Division office.

CONGO MURDERS HIT 20,000 MARK

LONDON (UPI)—George Thomson, minister of state for foreign affairs, told Parliament yesterday the Congo rebels have massacred an estimated 20,000 persons, 5,000 of them in Stanleyville.

Thomson said 27 British subjects were still in rebel-held territory. He rejected any suggestion of direct negotiations with the rebels. We cannot negotiate with a people who are in armed rebellion against the government we recognize as the legitimate government of the Congo," he said.

GOLDWATER MAY NOT SEEK 1968 NOMINATION

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.), said yesterday that he doesn't expect the Republican party to nominate him for president again in 1968—nor, he said, would he want to run.

But he mentioned four men he expected to compete for the nomination, including former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. He said that "as of now Nixon has the biggest hand upon the wheel."

In a copyrighted interview with the U. S. News and World Report magazine, Goldwater said the party could not ignore Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield or Govs. William Scranton of Pennsylvania and George Romney of Michigan.

He said he didn't expect New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller "to be up for anything."

Lyke Doll—Doubled

Lyke Features Holiday Color

Two coeds are featured in the Christmas issue of Lyke, campus feature magazine, on sale today, tomorrow and Thursday at various locations on campus. Price is 50 cents per copy.

Lyke Dolls are Priscilla Brooks, speech correction major from Cupertino and Lou Anne Newby, freshman art major from San Jose.

A special interview with President and Mrs. Robert D. Clark and a second interview with John Howard Griffith, author of "Black Like Me" is included in the magazine.

Other features include a short story about Jamie Bind, a secret agent who fights a plot to ruin student spirit at SJS, and a pictorial montage of Big Sur.

Pierce Clarifies Intent of Speech About Automation

Jack Pierce, assistant professor of sociology, has clarified intent of his speech last Wednesday in Concert Hall.

Rather than being opposed to automation, as was indicated in the Spartan Daily speech report, Pierce believes automation can be beneficial.

"Automation can lead to the elimination of human toil and provide satisfaction of wants to a degree never before possible."

He explained he was not really presenting a solution Wednesday but was emphasizing the necessity to realize and to meet problems that can arise in automation.

Pierce stressed the importance of informing the public on aspects of automation.

He also mentioned the possibility of having to change our view on the relationship between work and income to compensate for fewer and fewer jobs as automation increases in scope.

BLIND HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT John McMesaro of San Leandro performs exacting machine operations for the Ninth Annual Industrial Education Workshop. Some 500 Bay Area Industrial Arts instructors attended the meeting held at SJS Saturday. Ernest Kramer, chief of the Bureau of Industrial Education of the California Department of Education presented a paper on new concepts in industrial arts.

Council To Hear Proposal For ASB 'Speaker Corps'

An ambitious new program to draw freshmen into ASB government, called the "Speaker Corps," will be proposed to Student Council tomorrow afternoon by John Bruckman, sophomore representative.

Under Bruckman's concept, a corps of students would speak to freshmen and transfers in their living centers during the first month of school.

Bruckman's hope is that these speaking engagements would encourage the students to become interested in ASB government.

Once acquainted with ASB activities, these students would hopefully become a "working part" of student government, he declared yesterday.

RECRUIT FRESHMEN

"This is one way to get freshmen when they're 'red hot' after Freshman camp and turn them into a productive unit," he explained.

"It's a way," he said, "to inform new students as to exactly what's going on in student government."

The corps would "establish a media between the student and the ASB so that there aren't the misconceptions that commonly arise throughout the year," he noted.

If the program is passed by council and becomes successful, the corps could be broadened to include a full speaking program during orientation week, he noted.

INFORM STUDENTS

"The program might even foresee speakers going out during the year to inform students of ASB government," he continued.

Especially during the last two months, he explained, it's been evident that many students don't know what's going on in student government.

These "apathetic feelings" of students could be considerably lessened through the "Speaker Corps," he said.

The "Visitation Day" program for area high schools could also utilize the corps, he declared, "to draw more qualified and interested students to SJS."

DRAWN FROM THREE AREAS
Speakers in the proposed corps would be drawn from three different areas.

The services of present and past ASB officers and a team from the Speech Department could be utilized, he said.

Speakers would be chosen and trained by a corps committee that would serve for a full year.

The committee would consist of five students and one faculty member, with the ASB's public relations officer as chairman.

The other four student members would be appointed by the ASB president and selected "on the basis of their interest and experience in the workings of student government."

Appointment of the faculty member would also be by the ASB president "on the basis of past interest in student government."

According to Bruckman's proposal, the program would be set up next fall and the speakers would be trained during the following spring semester.

The actual working "Speaker Corps" would then begin their duties in the fall of 1966, he said.

U.C. Court Action

Rebels Delay Trials

By RICHARD HARNETT

United Press International

BERKELEY (UPI)—The cases of most of the 784 persons arrested in a massive sit-in demonstration at the University of California were put over yesterday until Jan. 5 when they will begin entering pleas in groups of 100 per day.

Attorneys for 714 of the 784 young men and women defendants appeared before Municipal Judge Rupert Crittenden, holding court in the Berkeley Community Theater, and asked for continuance. Few of the defendants were present.

Attorney Malcolm Burnstein told the judge the 714 waived arraignment, the right to a trial within 30 days after their Dec. 3 arrests, and the reading of the complaints.

The defendants were booked variously on charges of disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and unlawful assembly after an army of police dragged them out of the UC administration building.

Burnstein asked the court for time to contact another 30 persons not represented by attorneys in the hope of including them with the 714 he already represents.

He blamed this situation on "problems created by the University of California by denying the defendants a place to meet yesterday."

manities at Stanford University, tomorrow morning at 10:30 in Concert Hall.

Dr. Brown's speech, titled "Is God's Obituary Premature?" will be sponsored by the United Campus Christian Ministry.

Dr. Brown, a Protestant observer at the Second Vatican Council from September to December, 1963, is a minister of the United Presbyterian Church. He is on the editorial boards of Christianity and Crisis, Theology Today, Journal of Ecumenical Studies and Ramparts.

He is the author of six books on religion, the co-author of two and the translator of two others. Dr. Brown is the General Editor of the 12-volume Layman's Theological Library.

Co-Rec Presents Christmas Theme

"Co-Rec Creates the Christmas Spirit" this Wednesday, 7-9:45 p.m. in the Women's Gym and PER Building with a Christmas dance, a Christmas carol sing, and a canned food donation drive. Dance music will be by the Crusaders, a local rock 'n' roll band.

The food drive will be conducted on a voluntary basis. Cans of food will not be required for admission.

Food cans may be deposited in a container at the main entrance to the women's gym.

Activities offered will include volleyball, badminton, ping pong, table games, scrabble, chess, checkers, four-square, shuffleboard, basketball, and swimming. Basketball will be in its regular location, WG 27. Publicity chairman Julie Maino reminds would-be swimmers to bring swimsuits and bathing caps from home, and urges all who plan to attend to wear gym or tennis shoes.

Admission is free, but limited to ASB card holders.

'Tower' On Sale

The latest edition of "The Tower," SJS faculty magazine, may be purchased for 50 cents at the Spartan Bookstore, FOB102 or CH146.

Among the articles featured in the issue are "Snow, Bronowski, Leavis, the Two Cultures, and American Education" by Pres. Robert D. Clark, "The Latest on Loyalty Oaths" by Dr. Theodore M. Norton, and a debate on the "Tower List."

"HELLO, YOU FOLKS ON THE FINISH LINE! THE AMERICAN THINGAMAJIG STILL LEADS BY THREE LENGTHS, BUT THE RUSSIAN WHATCHAMACALLIT IS HOLDING ITS OWN...."

Viewpoint

By JOHN SOURIAL

The popular viewpoint is that if the U.S. evacuated Viet Nam tomorrow the action would save many American lives. Unfortunately, there is good cause to suspect this is not the case.

It makes no difference what political camouflage we may use to cover an evacuation, to the nations surrounding Viet Nam it would appear the Communists forced us out. Those nations would then believe the enemy is invincible, deciding that if the U.S. couldn't stand against the Communists, who could? All factors considered, those Southeast Asian countries would move closer to the Communist viewpoint in the name of self-defense.

Since we are committed to a "Hold the Line" policy in Southeast Asia, an evacuation of Viet Nam by our forces would cost many more lives in the long run than the current guerrilla war. Once we "run away," the Communists in that area will begin formulating peculiar ideas on how far Uncle Sam will recoil from firm military contact. The Red Chinese in particular may begin advocating policies that otherwise would not have been given the least consideration. An evacuation of Viet Nam would then either entail the evacuation of U.S. personnel from other threatened areas or the expenditure of a great many lives to convince the Communists we have made a new decision to hold the line at a new point.

Considering the type of war in which we are engaged, it would be tantamount to suicide in Southeast Asia if we let the Communists make such a gain at no expense. They would receive such momentum from a Viet Nam evacuation that a Korea-type action would be needed to slow them down. They certainly would not pay attention to any verbal threats we might have occasion to make after such a move. They would wink and suggest the paper tiger had its back broken in Viet Nam.

The trouble started when we thoroughly convinced the Communists we would stand by our "Hold the Line" policy. We sent the 93rd Marine Division on stage with a tap-dance version of "Annie Get Your Amtrack." Colt, Garand and Winchester supplied most of the orchestration. Perhaps we were bluffing, but the Communists believed we meant business and then decided to go ahead with the conflict anyway.

Neater traps seldom have been sprung, and not many people believed then that we were boxed in. The upshot of the situation now is that whichever way out we choose, it's going to be costly. But to evacuate Viet Nam would cost more lives in the long run than to stick it out.

Thrust and Parry

Speech Follow-Up 'One of the Worst'

Editor:

On Dec. 9, Jack Pierce of our Anthropology Dept. gave one of the most well-organized, logically constructed, and systematic lectures ever given by a speaker for the Visiting Scholar Committee. Mr. Pierce gave a tremendous talk on the problems of the Triple Revolution and its possible effects on America and the western world.

The story of the lecture carried in the Dec. 10 Spartan Daily not only gave the impression that the lecture was ill-organized, but the reporter grossly misinterpreted what was said. Mr. Pierce did not recommend, as the article states, "that we 'make a deliberate attempt to stop the spread of automation.'" Furthermore he did not caution that a society which gives all men a minimal standard of living would lead to an ever-growing number living in abject misery.

The story carried in the Spartan Daily is one of the worst jobs of reporting ever witnessed. The story ridicules the newspaper ideal of reporting what happened.

If the Spartan Daily is interested in carrying a story of what Mr. Pierce said at the Visiting Scholar Lecture, the signers of this letter will gladly write a story containing a factual account of the text.

We hope the Spartan Daily has the integrity to correct such a gross error as has just been witnessed.

Written by Louis King, and signed by 22 other students and Prof. B. C. Ogilvie and 11 other members of the faculty.

Student Prefers To Attack Everyone

Editor:

EVERYONE seems to be attacking either the Contemporary Christians or the Contemporary Atheists for their ads in the Spartan Daily these days. I am going to be different. I am going to endear myself to everyone, I am going to attack EVERYBODY. I think that the ads perpetrated by both groups are in extremely poor taste. In short, I think the ads of BOTH groups stink. Furthermore, I think that the Spartan Daily shows both naivete, stupidity and tastelessness for allowing itself to be turned into a battleground for a pro-anti-God and religious propaganda war. The Spartan Daily needs ads to finance its existence. But it is a shame to see one of the nation's "top college newspapers" letting itself be dragged down into the mud in this fashion. Come on, Spartan Daily, certainly you can do better than this.

Venturi Sportsman of Year

COMEBACK KID—San Jose State graduate Ken Venturi was named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated Magazine Sunday. The Comeback Golfer of the Year and PGA Player of the Year was chosen, according to Sidney L. James, Sports Illustrated publisher, because he refused to accept failure. He had all sorts of trouble with his game during the 1962-63 seasons, but regained confidence in himself to become the Venturi of old. Venturi captured the National Open Tourney this year.

Spartan Gymnasts Place

Cal Dominates Invitational

The University of California, represented by the great Ray Hadley and Dan Millman, dominated almost every event in the Northern California Invitational Gymnastic Tourney at the Spartan Gym Friday. The meet did not include team scoring.

Hadley, who won the all-around championship, was first in the parallel bar, first in the side horse, third in the floor exercise, second in the horizontal bar, third in the long horse, and tenth in the rings.

Millman, the world's champion in the trampoline, drew loud applause from the crowd for his performance in that event.

San Jose State was represented by Rich Chew, Jeff Milman, and Tony Coppola. Milman was fourth in the trampoline, and Chew and Coppola were seventh and tenth respectively, in the all-around.

Senior Chew beat freshman

Coppola by one-half a point in the floor exercise.

The performance of all three Spartan participants was outstanding considering the meet included not only some of the best competition in Northern California, but several NCAA, Olympic, and world champions.

Coppola, who was one of the youngest, and certainly the smallest participant at 5 feet, won the admiration of the spectators with his performance against post graduates in several events.

Stanford's Rusty Mills, NCAA champion in the side horse was upset by Hadley. Hadley, however, was upset in the floor exercise event in which he was NCAA champion.

Another outstanding star for Cal was Sid Freudenstein. He was first in the side horse, third in the horizontal bar, and second in the all-around.

Stanford, one of the strongest teams in the meet, is coached by John Gilmore. Gilmore was Tony Coppola's coach at Hillsdale High School in 1961-1962.

When asked why Coppola chose San Jose State over Stanford, Gilmore said, "Tony chose SJS not only for gymnastics, but because he was given a scholarship in music."

Frosh Basketballers Post Third Victory

The freshman basketball team overcame a 10 point second half deficit to defeat Cabrillo College, 62-60, Friday. The following night the Spartababes trounced Menlo Junior College 56-48.

The Spartababes (3-3) had a poor beginning this season, losing their first three games. Two of the losses were decided in the last few seconds of play.

Coach Dan Glines, however, still maintained his team would show a reversal of form. The Spartababes refused to give up, and team morale was strengthened due to a two point victory over California State at Hayward.

The Cal State win, along with the two wins last weekend, was responsible for a sudden surge of optimism, evidenced in yesterday's practice session.

This lively, enthusiastic freshman group has compensated for two heartbreaking defeats, with two last second victories in succession, and are now the proud possessors of a three game win streak.

The freshman face two of the better junior college teams in Northern California this week, as they travel to College of San Mateo today and San Jose City College Friday.

The freshmen have been inspired by the play of Dan McConnell. Despite McConnell's size, 6 ft. 3 in, he is one of the speediest members of the team, and is considered one of the best freshman prospects in Northern California.

Glines cited Pat O'Connell and Keith Erickson as other outstanding players this season. He is particularly pleased with Steve Perotti who is not a starter, but is, nevertheless, a consistent scorer.

Practically every team the Spartababes have faced this season have had a height advantage, but the Spartababes have managed to lead the opposing team in rebounds in their last three wins.

Hoop Entries Due

Entries are due tomorrow in MG121 for the upcoming pre-season basketball tourney.

Any team may enter the hoop fest which begins Jan. 7.

A basketball officials' clinic will also be held tomorrow in MG201 at 3:30 p.m.

San Jose Cagers Journey to Utah

Beatty, Miller Only Spartan Mat Winners

Varsity wrestlers Art Beatty and Loren Miller were the only Spartans who placed in the Mare Island Wrestling Tournament.

Beatty placed fourth out of 24 competitors, and Miller placed third out of 41 competitors, including a member of the U.S. Olympic team. Other Spartan wrestlers who participated were Joe Silva, Mike Herschfelt, and Dan Swensen.

Coach Hugh Mumby will employ the entire team in a dual meet against Fresno State Friday. In addition to Beatty and Miller, the Fresno State meet will feature Carl Dommeyer, Dommeyer and Miller are the only undefeated Spartan wrestlers.

The freshman wrestlers will face West Valley Junior College at the Spartan Gym tomorrow. The Spartababes, despite their impressive showing in the San Jose Wrestling Tournament, have won only one of four dual meets.

The Spartababes' first dual meet win was against Cabrillo College last week. They won 28-5, losing only one match. Frosh winners were Vaughn Imada, 115; Dave Van Tyle, 130; Steve Murphy, 137; Don Witeck, 157; Kris Anderson, 167; Dick Dixon, 177; and Rich Cooney, heavyweight. Walt Armijo, who wrestles in the 123 lb. division, is the only undefeated Spartababe.

"IS GOD'S OBITUARY PREMATURE?"

Wednesday, Dec. 16th; 10:30 a.m.
College Concert Hall

Dr. Brown is a young, world-noted contemporary theologian. Former Professor of Theology, Union Theological Seminary, New York City, author of numerous books and articles. As an official Presbyterian observer at the Vatican Council his reports have appeared in Life, Saturday Evening Post, and other Roman Catholic and Protestant journals. In addition to his keen theological insight, he is noted for his rich humor.

Assumes Administrative Post

Dr. John Le Valley, formerly a member of the SJS Health Service staff has recently been named acting dean of student personnel at California State College, Los Angeles (CSCLA), where he is currently serving as health officer. He replaces Dr. Morton J. Renchaw, who has resigned to devote his full time to the teaching of educational psychology.

Dr. Le Valley went to CSCLA in the spring of 1962 to head the Student Health Services, which operate under the auspices of the dean of students. A member of the medical profession, Dr. Le Valley graduated at the top of his class from the University of Buffalo (N.Y.) Medical School. He served in the U.S. Army Medical Corps and engaged in private practice before joining the Health Services staff at SJS in the fall of 1959.

Dr. Le Valley is currently serving as a part-time consultant to Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, Chancellor of the California State Colleges, to assist in preparing proposals for student health programs for the California state colleges.

YRs To Present
GOP Film Tonight

The film "Choice" will be shown tonight at 8 in Concert Hall by the SJS Young Republicans.

The 30-minute GOP campaign film is intended to depict the decline of morality in the U.S. according to Richard Reeb, Young Republicans president.

It was scheduled for a television showing during the recent presidential campaign but a protest from the Democrats prompted Barry Goldwater to order it withheld from television.

A 50-cent donation will be requested at the door before the performance.

Andrea Vargo
Chosen Queen

Andrea Vargo, a junior history major and a member of Delta Zeta sorority, was crowned as queen of the Pershing Rifles at the groups annual Christmas Ball Saturday night at the Sainte Clair Hotel.

The new queen was crowned by Dr. William Dusel, SJS vice pres. Other finalists in the contest were Jeanne Halvosa, Jan Stubbs, Nancy Schumann and Dorian Dodge.

The crowning of the queen was the highlight of a full evening that included a reception, dinner and dancing. Providing the dancing music were Art Wall's Gallahads.

San Jose Room

The San Jose Room on the sixth floor of the college library, LN630, is open Monday and Tuesday, 1 to 3 p.m., and Wednesday and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Publications connected with San Jose and the college are available for reference there.

During the hours the room is closed to the public, it may be used for faculty committee meetings and conferences. Reservations can be made with William C. Weaver, librarian's secretary, LC101, or ex. 2401.

Weather Expert
Lectures Tonight

Harold J. Shellum, an aviation forecaster, will discuss "Aviation Weather Forecasting" at a meeting of the Student Chapter of the American Meteorological Society tonight at 7:30 in E329.

Shellum is employed by the San Francisco International Aviation-High Altitude Section of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

He has been in weather work since 1942, including the Air Force weather service. He has worked at several other locations, including Cincinnati and Denver.

Prior to his San Francisco assignment, he was employed as a leading analyst and forecaster at the National Weather Analysis Center in Washington, D.C.

His lecture is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Science Majors
Begin Pre-Reg

Biological science majors, science education majors and minors, and premedical and predoctoral students have been advised to schedule an appointment with their advisers, it was announced today.

The advisement period will run this week and Jan. 4 through 8, 1965.

The appointment is for the purpose of planning a program for the forthcoming year.

Students who do not confer with their advisers during the period may not preregister for spring semester courses in the biological and science education departments.

'58 SJS Graduate
Wills College $500

SJS recently received a bequest of $500 from the estate of Myron J. Ahlstrom, a 1958 graduate of SJS, who died earlier this year on Sept. 28, at the age of 34.

The bequest to the college was included in Ahlstrom's insurance policy.

When he enrolled at SJS, Ahlstrom listed Waukon, Iowa as his home. He had previously attended Iowa State College. He received his B.A. degree in art in 1958, graduating with honors. He returned in 1961 to get his M.A.

At the time of his death he was living in Taft, Calif. He is survived by his wife and two children.

John M. Olejnik, a representative of the College Life Insurance Co. presented the check to Dr. Robert D. Clark, president of the college.

Interviews Set
Today, Tomorrow

Interviews for foreign student orientation leaders will be in the College Union today from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and tomorrow from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Application forms are now available at the College Union. They should be returned before the interview.

Students selected will be phoned between 5 and 6 tomorrow evening and should attend the orientation meeting on Wednesday from 7 to 10 p.m. in cafeteria, A and B.

Foreign student orientation leaders are to help new students from other countries during the spring semester.
